DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11 and 15-17 are drawn to a composition comprising magnetic and non-magnetic particles, classified in class 436, subclass 526.
 - II. Claims 12-14 are drawn to a method for the detection of one or more target entities in a mixture, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
 - III. Claims 15-17 are drawn to a composition comprising a detectable fluorescent label, classified in class 436, subclass 8.
2. Inventions of a) each of groups I and III and b) group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the products as recited in groups I and III can be used in a materially different process such as magnetic sample agitation or magnetic mixing of a sample.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Because the products of groups I and III can be used in processes other than the process recited in group II, a search for the product would not encompass a search for a use of the product.

Art Unit: 1641

3. Inventions of group I and group III are patentably distinct. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different effects. The composition of group III requires a detectable fluorescent label, which is not required of the composition of group I. The composition of group I requires magnetic particles bearing variable amounts of free binding sites distal to the surface of non-magnetic microparticles, which is not required of the invention of group III.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. The compositions of groups I and III require different components, therefore a search for the composition of group I would not encompass a search for the composition of group III.

4. A telephone call was made to Mr. James Wilcox on September 21, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
